SECRETATLAS

EXPEDITION MICRO CRUISES

Because smaller means more freedom.

Dear Explorers,

Let us introduce ourselves.

We are a company founded, owned, and operated by explorers. Many years ago we set our eyes on the beauty of the polar regions and were struck by a feeling like no other.

Inspired by the heroic explorers of the past, we want to share real expeditions with you. Adventures that satisfy our craving to discover a world far bigger than the one we encounter daily – and explore it with appreciation, time, and respect.

We've dedicated ourselves to pioneering carefully crafted Expedition Micro Cruises, unforgettable experiences which encourage you to discover the true magic of the polar regions.

We will forever be grateful to explore such unique and powerful environments.
We hope you will feel the same at the end of this journey with us.

Welcome to the Secret Atlas family.

Michele D'Agostino and Mariano Curiel
Secret Atlas owners

Fuelled by the long-lost passion of exploration

At Secret Atlas, we venture into the vast, unpredictable wilderness, where nature leaves a lasting impression. Rather than trying to compete with its vastness or tame its unpredictability, we embrace them. That's why we pioneered the Expedition Micro Cruise, itinerary-free explorations offering the smallest group sizes at both poles.

With just 44 guests, our small ships reach places large vessels can't, allowing for deeper connections, no obstruction to self-discovery, and immersive experiences in the world's most treasured environments.

For us, less is more. Less waiting, more time exploring. Fewer crowds, greater adventure. Join us, and discover the world with purpose.

Following the footsteps of giants...

Scott. Shackleton. Amundsen. Mawson. Bancroft.

When we explore the polar regions, we follow in the footsteps of giants. Their spirit of adventure guides us.chat

We're adaptable, letting ice, wildlife, and weather shape our evolving itineraries. Our agile Expedition Micro Cruises reach places larger ships can't. They offer both home comforts and the ultimate luxury – the freedom and time to explore.

Leading in responsible travel, we create journeys that inspire self-discovery and deep connections – with nature, each other, and ourselves.

...leaving small footprints.

When you explore the polar regions, you gain a newfound respect for them – and feel an overwhelming urge to protect them.

Explore. Respect. Protect. It's in our DNA.

That's why we travel in small groups. It's more responsible, minimising our footprint and preserving these fragile environments.

And to help with our impact goals, rather than just talking about change, we seek out partnerships that make a real difference.

"We're set on keeping the wilderness wild!"

- Mariano Curiel, Secret Atlas partner

Our expeditions

Expedition Micro Cruises

See the world at its best on the original Expedition Micro Cruise.

Inspired by intrepid expeditions of the past, we only sail with small groups – the smallest in Antarctica – on agile, strong ships that go deep into the pack ice, where other vessels can't.

The biggest luxury we provide is the freedom to explore nature – without limits, filters, or time constraints. Our truly small ship expeditions have no fixed itinerary. Instead, we listen to nature and take the opportunities it presents, creating transformative experiences in the planet's last great wildernesses.

RAISE A GLASS TO ADVENTURE

Cheers to your newfound friends with your favourite tipple from the bar.

LECTURE IN SESSION!

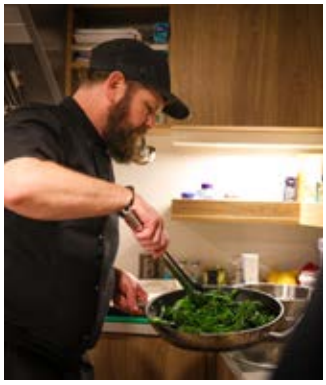
Connect with our superstar guides and soak up their expert polar knowledge. Enjoy onboard lectures on photography, geology, wildlife, history, and more. We carefully pair their expertise to ensure you receive the best insights for your chosen expedition.

POLAR-EYES

Pack your binoculars and camera, because this is a spotting session for some of the world's most seldom-seen wildlife. Nothing quite compares to spotting a polar bear in its natural habitat.

FEAST ON ADVENTURE

Full board, fresh food, fantastic chefs, and great company. Catering to all dietary requirements, we offer hearty meals across the day and special event dinners, like our famous on-deck BBQs.



Life in the field

ZODIAC CRUISE

Icebergs, glaciers, wildlife. Get even closer to nature on a Zodiac cruise.

BUSHCRAFT 101

In a land of ice and rock, survival depends on understanding the environment. More than just guides, they teach essential skills to thrive in this stark, frozen wild landscape.

HISTORY BUFF

Whether you're visiting the grave of legendary explorer Ernest Shackleton or exploring South Georgia's historic whaling stations, each destination reveals compelling stories of courage, endurance, and life on the frozen frontier.

WILDERNESS HIKES

No pathways, just pure wilderness. For the best views, explore mountains, glaciers, Antarctic deserts, and coastal landscapes on foot.

THE ULTIMATE COLD DIP

For those brave enough, take a dive into the icy polar waters. Can we convince you if we tell you it has wonderful health benefits?

SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

Visit locations of great scientific interest and learn about the importance and fragility of the poles.

DODGE THE GIANTS

Marvel at the view as you cut a course past the largest icebergs in the world!

CHARTERING THE ICE

If Mother Nature allows, step off the ship and onto the pack ice for a truly surreal feeling.

Watch some of the planet's largest colonies of penguins waddle across icy beaches, spot seals lounging on drifting icebergs, and witness humpback or orca whales slicing through the Antarctic Ocean. Sail past towering icebergs and into ancient glacier fjords, where every moment seems like you're in a nature documentary.

Antarctica's untouched beauty awakens the heroic explorer in everyone, from curious children to lifelong adventurers. It's a world where every iceberg, wildlife encounter, and Zodiac landing will feel like your first discovery.

With expert photography guidance, you and your fellow explorers will be able to capture this stunning natural display in all of its illuminating and striking contrasts. Your guide will help you and your fellow explorers will make the most of every golden moment — capturing breathtaking images and creating memories that last a lifetime. ADRENALINE JUNKIES

The ultimate ski and sail

Sail up and ski down: this exhilarating private expedition combines the best of skiing and sailing in one.

Touch down on remote shores, hike up breathtaking mountains, and carve your way down untouched slopes back to the coast... where your private ship will be waiting to whisk you and your party off to the next unforgettable run.

No crowded slopes, no queueing for the lift. Just ski, sail, repeat.

Then it's back to the ship for the aprés...

"The luxury of being alone in nature and getting close to animals is worth it. This trip is also great for slowing down and reconnecting with the wild. ...It is a much more adventurous feeling on a small ship and you are really immersed in nature."

— Julia, Secret Atlas guest in South Georgia

Information for Your Expedition

IMPORTANT TRIP DETAILS

Itinerary

Antarctica is a remote and ever-changing environment. While every effort is made to follow the published itinerary, weather and environmental conditions may require adjustments. Safety is our highest priority, and our team reserves the right to alter the programme to ensure your well-being and the best possible experience.

Baggage and Allowance

We advise against bringing fragile or designer luggage that could be easily damaged. Luggage insurance is strongly recommended. For flights to and from Antarctica, the maximum weight is 20kg checked luggage, 5kg carry-on. Excess luggage for air-cruises beginning and ending in Puerto Natales will be stored securely and returned after the expedition. At certain points, you may need to handle your own bags, so practical packing is essential.

Antarctic Flights and Contingency Plan

Flights to and from Antarctica are subject to weather conditions, and occasionally schedules may change. Please review our Terms & Conditions before your departure, and speak to your booking agent if you have any questions.

The Nature of Expedition Travel

Our Antarctic expeditions are designed for curious, adventurous travellers in reasonably good health who enjoy active exploration. Visiting Antarctica requires flexibility and a sense of adventure, as conditions can change quickly. There are no airports or port facilities at King George Island or along the Antarctic Peninsula. Upon landing, you will transfer to the shore, where our Zodiacs will take you directly to the ship, ready to begin your journey into the polar world.

Secret Atlas Guest Information Form

All participants are required to complete an online Participation Form at least 90 days before departure. This confirms your readiness for the voyage and ensures we can prepare for your arrival safely and comfortably.

Medical Insurance

For your safety, all guests must hold a travel insurance policy that includes aero-medical evacuation from Antarctica in case of emergency. This should cover health conditions that may arise during the voyage, including pre-existing conditions and pandemics.

Secret Atlas Travel Insurance Checklist

Cancellation Insurance

We strongly recommend that travellers secure trip cancellation and interruption insurance to protect your plans in the unlikely event of unforeseen changes.

Contingency Plan

Secret Atlas has extensive experience coordinating land, air, and sea operations in the extreme Antarctic environment. Despite our careful planning, Antarctic flights are subject to unpredictable weather. In the unlikely event that your flight to or from Antarctica cannot operate as scheduled, our Contingency Plan ensures your safety, comfort, and enjoyment, while providing financial protection if the voyage is impacted.

Outbound Flight – Moved Forward

At times, outbound flights may be rescheduled to the afternoon or evening of Day 1. To help your journey begin smoothly, we ask that guests plan to arrive in Puerto Natales by 5pm (check in from 3pm) on the first day of the itinerary. Arriving later than this may mean we're unable to board you onto the flight, and we want to avoid anyone missing the start of their adventure.

Outbound Flight – Delayed

If weather delays the outbound flight, the group will remain in Puerto Natales, with accommodation, meals, and, when possible, guided excursions to local attractions.

With Secret Atlas, our micro fly cruise voyages extend the flight window, giving you a much higher chance of reaching Antarctica. By contrast, while most operators set a cut-off on Day 4 (afternoon), we extend ours to Day 5 evening, increasing the operational flight window by over 45%.

If the flight operates by the evening of day 5, your voyage will continue as planned. In the unlikely event that weather prevents the outbound flight beyond the evening of day 5, then guests can opt for your fare to be credited or to stay and fly to Antarctica when the window opens.

YOUR PEACE OF MIND

The Contingency Plan is included in the cost of your expedition. Its primary goal is to ensure a safe, engaging, and comfortable experience while adapting to weather conditions. Guests will be kept informed throughout, whether in Puerto Natales or Antarctica.

Return Flight – Moved Forward

To avoid prolonged delays in Antarctica, the return flight may be moved forward. Accommodation and all other inclusions remain as per the original itinerary. No refund will be extended in this scenario.

Return Flight – Delayed

If weather delays the return, the group will remain in Antarctica with meals and accommodation provided on board. Should delays exceed two days with no improvement forecasted, the captain may choose to sail back to South America for safety. The trip concludes at Puerto Natales airport, and guests are responsible for any onward travel adjustments.
